A Liberal Response to the Ontario Clean Air Alliance

Do you believe that the Government of Canada should subsidize the construction of new nuclear reactors in Ontario?

a) Yes

b) No

c) No opinion

Additional Comments:

There is no doubt that nuclear power does have the possibility to play a significant role in providing power to Canadians and helping them reduce their greenhouse gas emissions. Canada has always been a leader in nuclear technology, and Canada is well positioned to put into place both large and small scale nuclear facilities to address Canada's power needs.

However, there are still a number of questions that remain about nuclear power that have yet to be fully answered. In particular I believe that more study needs to be done about the storage of nuclear waste and the long term environmental impacts of managing that waste. If the Liberal Party forms the next government we will appoint a Blue-Ribbon Panel of experts to look at these and other concerns.

The report of the Blue-Ribbon Panel will form the basis of the Liberal Party's approach to nuclear waste.
